DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1, 5-22 and 45, drawn to formulations in powder form, classified in class 424, subclass 46.
- II. Claims 23-44, 46-47, drawn to propellant-containing solution or suspensions, classified in class 424, subclass 45.
- III. Claims 48-50, drawn to method of treating, classified in class 514, subclass various.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are directed to related formulations. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, dry powder formulations of Group I and propellant-containing solution or suspension of Group II are distinct and have do not overlap in scope. Dry powder formulations typically do not require propellants and use different devices for administration. They also require no or different carrier materials than solution formulations.

Application/Control Number: 10/775,901

Art Unit: 1616

Inventions I or II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the formulations of Group I or Group II can be used to treat different disorders and the disorders recited in claims 48-50 can be treated using different medicament or combinations of medicaments.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Election

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Application/Control Number: 10/775,901

Art Unit: 1616

Claims 8-11 contain various active agents as dopamine agonists. A single agent or one Markush group of claims 8-11 should be elected for examination.

For examination purposes, Applicant is requested to elect a single disclosed species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

A telephone call was made to Ms. Wanda Petka on 06/07/06 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not

Application/Control Number: 10/775,901

distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Mina Haghighatian whose telephone number is 571-272-0615. The examiner can normally be reached on core office hours.
